

Kudos to Mike Seavert, Don Paulus and Ted Shawn who are volunteers with the Friends of Hales Corners Park & Pool who showed up this morning at the Alyson Dudek Community Ice Rink with myself to attempt to remove the snow fence and the metal stakes holding it up.

No go! They are frozen into the ground from the ground and extra water that was put down combined with the frigid temperatures the last few days.
It was -5 at 8:30 am with a wind chill of 22 below. I'm trying to remove the excess snow from the liner, but it is very bumpy due to the extra water put in by the HCFD after the leaks in the liner were repaired by them.

The kids will have to make do with an imperfect skating venue this winter. Kind of like us baby boomers back in the day!

Sincerely
